

Introducing the HRH Global Resource Center

This web-based portal is a searchable collection of human resources for health (HRH) information and resources with librarian support.

www.hrresourcecenter.org

Find evidence, ideas and inspiration.

The HRH Global Resource Center is easy to use and is updated regularly. Find the information you need to plan, develop and support the health workforce. The collection includes:

- o Country-level HRH documents and strategic plans
- o Tools: job aids, guidelines, checklists
- o Journal articles and research studies
- o Meeting and conference reports and presentations
- o Videos, audio files and online tutorials
- o Interviews with HRH practitioners
- o HRH news and announcements

Share with team members—you and your colleagues now have access to an online library that can save time, promote evidence-based decision-making, strengthen reports and presentations and enhance professional development.

Contribute new resources you recommend or have developed and submit comments on the resources you use. Tell us how to improve the Global Resource Center. We add new features regularly.

Get Help from the Global Resource Center team on finding resources to answer your health workforce questions.

The HRH Global Resource Center is a knowledge management service of the Capacity Project (www.capacityproject.org), a USAID-funded global project designed to strengthen human resources for health. For more information, contact Rebecca Rhodes, rrhodes@capacityproject.org.

The information provided on the HRH Global Resource Center is not official U.S. Government information and does not represent the views or positions of the U.S. Agency for International Development or the U.S. Government.